Ground transportation options from Logan Airport to the hotel:

Hotel Address: Boston Marriott Cambridge, 50 Broadway, Cambridge, MA 02142

There is not a complimentary hotel shuttle bus from the airport.

Cheapest Option – Silver Line Express Bus/ Red Line Subway
Take the free Silver Line SL 1 express bus from any Logan Airport terminal to South Station. Switch to the subway Red Line (headed north toward Alewife), and get off at Kendall Square/MIT stop. There are several flights of stairs at South Station (the switch point) and a short walk from the subway station to the hotel.

http://www.mbta.com/schedules_and_maps/subway/

When you buy a subway fare card from a ticket machine, you need to put your credit card in and take it back out again (swipe it) before continuing with the transaction. One-way subway fares are under $3.
http://www.mbta.com/riding_the_t/accessible_services/default.asp?id=16659

Express Bus to Copley Square/ Taxi
There is a $5 Express Bus from the airport to Copley Square in Boston. The bus does not accept payment with cash, only by credit card. One could then catch a taxi from Copley Square to the hotel (average price $15 one way).

GoShuttle (around $20) - needs to be reserved in advance
http://www.gobostonshuttle.com/services

Taxi from airport to hotel (average price $35 one way).

Ground transportation options from South Station to the hotel:

Subway Red Line
Anyone arriving by bus or train into Boston’s South Station should take the subway Red Line from South Station north toward Alewife to the Kendall Square/ MIT stop and then it is a short walk to the hotel.
http://www.mbta.com/schedules_and_maps/subway/

Taxi from South Station to hotel (average price $18 one way).

Information about parking near MIT campus (for people arriving by car and not staying at the nearby hotel):